Ina studied library science and is the Trial Search Coordinator (TSC) of the group since April 2007.

She develops literature search strategies for Cochrane reviews of the CHMG as well as for their updates and maintains our specialized trials register. Furthermore she developed a step-by-step manual for the design of systematic search strategies and an introduction for searching in the database Medline(Ovid) for review authors who want to run their searches themselves. And she maintains TIHO, a disease-specific database with randomized controlled trials available on www.medpilot.de.
